

Chapter 36

Canada Gazette of 30 September 2017

Medals of France to Canadians

France awards more medals to Canadians than any other country. In 1998, France awarded the Legion of Honour (Chevalier) to all surviving WW1 veterans in Canada and has subsequently awarded the honour to all living WWII veterans who participated in D-Day. The Initial awards were gazetted but the later one have not been gazetted. The following are a representative sample of French awards made to Canadians. The ISSUED are those from the time these awards began to appear regularly in the Canada Gazette.

LEGION OF HONOUR (l'Ordre de la Legion d'Honneur)

TERMS

Napoleon Bonaparte instituted the honour as a legion or body of men whom he wished to honour for their meritorious services, military or civil.

Today the honour is in 5 grades:

Grand Cross (sash and star),
Grand Officer (neck and star),
Commander (neck badge),
Officer (breast badge), and
Chevalier/Knight (breast badge).

Both men and women receive the honour.

DESCRIPTION

The badge consists of a five-armed cross with ten points, enamelled white, each point tipped with a gold ball superimposed over a wreath of laurel and oak in green enamel. The centre medallion bears the female head of La Republique with a blue border with the inscription in gold REPUBLIQUE FRANCAISE and a star at the bottom. A wreath attaches to the top of the medal and a ring attaches to the wreath for the ribbon to pass. There is no distinction between civil and military awards.

RIBBON

The red ribbon is 38-mm wide. Officers wear a rosette on the ribbon. Commanders wear a rosette on a white stripe.

ISSUED

Awarded to Canadians since 1983 (current to CG 26 August 2017)

Grand Cross	3	Paul Desmarais CC / Michaëlle Jean CC CMM COM DSTJ CD
Grand Officer	3	Robert Bourassa / Paul Desmarais / Roméo Leblanc
Commander	19	General Walter Natynczyk CMM MSC CD / Beverly McLachlin
Officer	50	Commissioner Giuliano Zaccardelli, COM, CStJ, RCMP
Knight	202 + 146 named WWII Veterans	- 348 Total Knights

Between 2004 and 2007, 97 World War II Canadian veterans, who actively took part in the liberation of Europe, received the Knight of the Légion d'Honneur from the Republic of France.

This project was expanded in 2012 to 2015 to include all Canadian veterans who had participated in D-Day. My friend, former Senator, The Honourable John Nichol, CC, received the medal in the mail at Christmas 2015. These honours were not gazette and so the numbers are not known.
