ARMY CADET SERVICE MEDAL

TERMS

The Army Cadet Service Medal is awarded to members of the Royal Canadian Army Cadets who have completed four (4) years of honourable service with no break in service longer than one (1) month. A bar will be awarded for every additional year of service.

The cadet must apply for the medal and:

- a) successfully have completed four (4) calendar years (from enrolment date) of honourable service with no serious infractions;
- b) have no break in service longer than one (1) month or more; and
- c) be recommended by the Cadet Corps' Commanding Officer.

NOTE

Previous service in other cadet's elements (Sea Cadets or Air Cadets) will count towards years required to be awarded the Army Cadet Service Medal.

The effective date of the medal was 01 January 2004 but Cadets who served prior to this date may apply to their former Cadet Corps for the medal but must pay a nominal fee of $10.00 (2010 cost). If the Cadet Corps the former member belonged no longer exists, the individual may apply to an associated Corps that may have knowledge of the previous Cadet Corps and will evaluate the supporting evidence of four years service.

The application form is found on the Army Cadet League of Canada web page: <http://www.armycadetleague.ca>

BARS

A gold bar with a flat maple leaf in the middle is awarded for each addition year of service in the Royal Canadian Army Cadets. In undress uniform, a gold maple leaf is worn for each bar. A cadet who enrolled on the day of their 12th birthday could receive a third bar on leaving the program on the day before their 19th birthday.

DESCRIPTION

A circular gold medal, 35-mm in diameter, with the RCAC crest in the middle on the obverse with the word SERVICE - CADETS at the top and CANADA at the bottom. On the reverse of the medal is a rectangular blank for the recipient's name and Corps to be engraved. The medal has a ring at the top through which the ribbon passes.

RIBBON

A 35-mm green ribbon with edges of yellow and red (red on the outside) and the red twice as wide as the yellow.

DATE

The Medal was effective on 01 January 2004 in celebration of the 125th Anniversary of the Royal Canadian Army Cadets (RCAC) and authorized for wear on 05 May 2004.

MEDALS of the ROYAL CANADIAN AIR CADETS

AIR FORCE ASSOCIATION of CANADA MEDAL

TERMS

The candidates shall be selected from the Air cadets attending the Senior Leaders Course. A total of twelve medals shall be awarded yearly to the top cadets, one for each Air Cadet League Provincial Committee.

The cadets are assessed in a number of areas to determine the recipients. These criteria are:

- a) overall achievement on the course;
- b) leadership qualities;
- c) instructional abilities;
- d) dress and deportment;
- e) motivation; and
- f) cooperation with others.

The Air Cadet Summer Training Centre (ACSTC) Commanding Officer (CO), where the Senior Leaders Course takes place, shall order the formation of a selection committee comprised of ACSTC staff and he shall make sure the selection process is known by all, transparent and auditable to ensure the most deserving cadets are selected to receive the medals.

A representative of the AFAC shall present the medals at the ACSTC graduation parade. If a representative of the AFAC is not available, the Reviewing Officer shall present the medals.

CADET CERTIFICATION of COMMENDATION PIN

The Cadet Certificate of Commendation may be awarded to a cadet for outstanding deeds in attempting to save the life or property of another person.

A cadet who is awarded the Cadet Certificate of Commendation will receive a certificate and a pin. The certificate will show the cadet's name, include an appropriate citation and be signed by the D Cdts & JCR. The pin is a silver bar with one maple leaf and shall be worn on the cadet uniform in accordance with the current elemental dress instructions.

AIR CADET SERVICE MEDAL

TERMS

To qualify for this award a serving cadet must have successfully completed four years of honourable service with no serious infractions and be recommended by the Cadet Squadron Commanding Officer. All past air cadets are eligible for this award upon application.

A break in service of one month or less will not disqualify a recipient from receiving the award.

An Air Cadet who has previously served with the Army Cadets and/or Sea Cadets may count such service to the eligibility period. Service is portable between air cadet squadrons.

The application for the award is initiated by the qualifying cadet by completing the Application Form. Upon receiving an application, the Cadet Squadron Commanding Officer substantiates the cadet's service and makes the appropriate recommendation or not. The Air Cadet League is responsible for the administration, finance and control of the process and disputes are mediated by the Air Cadet League whose decision is final and binding.

DESCRIPTION

A round gold coloured medal, 35-mm in diameter. On the Obverse is the crest of the Royal Canadian Air Cadets, above the badge the words SERVICE - CADETS and at the bottom of the badge the word CANADA. On the reverse of the medal, a rectangular blank where the recipients name, squadron and date may be engraved.

RIBBON

The ribbon is 35-mm wide with five stripes: 10-mm royal blue border represent the Air Cadet League's bestowed Royal title; 7-mm light blue in the centre represents the Air Force; and the two 4-mm gold stripes represent the four years of successful service.
